THE MAAS BROTHERS DIFFERENCE

Our Process and Commitment

CONSISTENCY MATTERS

Parts not delivered as promised or on time? Too many rejects?

Our disciplined onboarding process means we take time to make sure we run your parts in the best possible way to provide the consistent coating quality you need.

How We Avoid Rejected Parts: The ABC's

Ask Questions: Invest time upfront to understand the unique coating needs of each job.

Be Determined: Test sample parts until the process recipe is right, which may include creating custom fixtures.

Catch (and Fix) Issues Quickly: Deploy multiple QA checkpoints, from part prep to final packaging.

Our commitment to sustainability extends from our processes to your products.

Outgrowing your current powder coater's capabilities?

We Grow With You

Large runs. Smaller runs. Prototypes, too!

Often the final step in production, we know powder coating is critical to you delivering your finished products to your customers so you can get paid. We take this responsibility very seriously, regardless of run size. Consider Maas Brothers an extension of your team. We keep our promises so you can keep yours. Count on it.
